The award-winning creator of Alex Rider, and author of the bestselling Power of Five series, gives the horror genre a twist in this grisly collection of gruesome tales, presented in an exciting new, larger format. Stories of ultimate revenge – from freshly-sold human meat and uncontrollable robots, to life-sucking MP3 players and reality TV with a deadly result – are all told with dark humour and ghoulish relish. This is Anthony Horowitz at his most wicked.

- Old-fashioned cover look that belies the gruesome interior.
- Made even more fiendish by retro illustrations, chilling facts and a mischievous message from the author.
- Extra stories are available for download onto the handheld Nintendo DSi, for the interactive EA FLIPS range, as part of an innovative digital marketing campaign.
- Spooky trailer available online.
- Major nationwide press and publicity campaign.

A thrilling prequel to the bestselling Mortal Instruments series, full of vampires, werewolves and shape-shifters.

Magic is dangerous - but love is more dangerous still...

When sixteen-year-old Tessa Gray arrives in England during the reign of Queen Victoria, something terrifying is waiting for her in London's Downworld, where vampires, warlocks and other supernatural folk stalk the gaslit streets. Friendless and hunted, Tessa seeks refuge with the Shadowhunters, a band of warriors dedicated to ridding the world of demons. Drawn ever deeper into their world, she finds herself fascinated by - and torn between - two best friends, and quickly realizes that love may be the most dangerous magic of all.

- Clockwork Angel is the first in a new trilogy about the Downworlders – the supernatural creatures introduced in Cassandra Clare's bestselling Mortal Instruments trilogy.
- The Mortal Instruments series has been translated into 19 languages and has appeared on bestseller lists in the US, Germany, Ireland, Australia, New Zealand and Canada.

Praise for the Mortal Instruments:

"The Mortal Instruments series is a story world I love to live in. Beautiful!" Stephenie Meyer, author of Twilight

"Funny, dark, and sexy ... Cassie's writing makes my toes curl with envy." Holly Black, author of The Spiderwick Chronicles

Slog's Dad

By David Almond

Illustrated by Dave McKean

Do you believe there's life after death? Slog does. He reckons that the scruffy bloke sitting outside the pork shop is his dad come back to visit him for one last time – just like he'd said he would, just before he died. Slog's mate Davie isn't convinced. But how else does this man know everything Slog's dad would know? From the multi-award-winning author of Skellig and Kit's Wilderness, in collaboration with his fellow creator of The Savage, comes this tender part-story, part-graphic novel about life and death.

Monsters of Men

By Patrick Ness

The electrifying finale to the multiple award-winning trilogy, Chaos Walking.

"War," says the Mayor. "At last."

Three armies march on New Prentisstown, each one intent on destroying the others.

Todd and Viola are caught in the middle, with no chance of escape.

As the battles commence, how can they hope to stop the fighting? How can there ever be peace when they're so hopelessly outnumbered? And if war makes monsters of men, what terrible choices await?

But then a third voice breaks into the battle, one bent on revenge...

In this heart-stopping conclusion, young heroes Todd and Viola face severe obstacles in a world where information overload has gone mad. The fight to survive the devastating reality of war becomes a battle between betrayal and belief.

- Supported by a major marketing and publicity campaign, including outdoor advertising.

A Bedtime for Bear

By Bonny Becker
Illustrated by Kady MacDonald Denton

Bear must have absolute quiet when he goes to bed. He likes to set out his glass of water, adjust his nightcap, fluff up his favourite pillow and then drift peacefully off to sleep. But when the impish Mouse comes to spend the night, Bear is in for a rude – and very funny – awakening. Humour and warmth abound in this irresistible new story starring the unlikely pair.

The Kites Are Flying!

By Michael Morpurgo
Illustrated by Laura Carlin

A moving tale of tragedy and hope about an unlikely friendship between Max, a journalist on an assignment in the West Bank, and Said, an enigmatic, silent Palestinian boy. Illustrated by Laura Carlin, with an afterword by BBC Middle East correspondent, Jeremy Bowen, Morpurgo's latest offering is as sophisticated as ever, celebrating the bright light of humanity that survives even in the darkest conflict.

On the Blue Comet

By Rosemary Wells
Illustrated by Bagram Ibatoulline

Trains and time travel collide in this thrilling adventure.

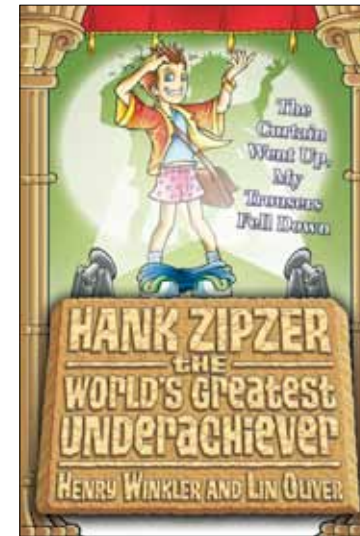

After the Wall Street Crash, Oscar and his dad are forced to move in with his humourless Aunt Carmen. He is lonely and miserable, until he witnesses a crime so stunning it catapults him on a journey from coast to coast, from one decade to another.

- Peppered with witty encounters with Hollywood stars and other bigwigs of history such as Alfred Hitchcock and Joan Crawford, this captivating novel resonates with suspense, warmth, humour and magic.
- Full-colour, 1940s-style, chiaroscuro illustration by none other than the inimitable Bagram Ibatoulline.

Poison Pen

By Tanya Landman

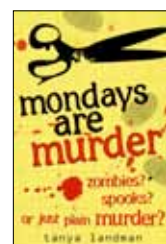

The seventh tale in the brilliantly addictive series of murder mysteries by the acclaimed Tanya Landman is as gripping as ever. It's Book Week, and Poppy and Graham are helping out at their local literary festival. However, when the authors start getting anonymous notes featuring cartoons of themselves suffering grisly deaths, the intrepid pair have to move quickly to discover who's at the bottom of it – before fiction turns into fact...

- Mondays Are Murder, the first in the series, won the 2010 Red House Children's Book Award.

The Crazy Things Girls Do for Love

By Dyan Sheldon

High school is pretty predictable – there are the geeks, the hipsters, the princesses, the jocks... But when Cody Lightfoot – smart, handsome, cool and with a passion for the environment – joins the school, suddenly the craze for green living is everywhere! The girls and boys of Clifton Springs pull out all the stops to impress him and outdo each other in the run up to Earth Day. But soon they start to wonder whether Cody is worthy of all their attention – and whether saving the world might just be more important than impressing a boy.

The yetis of the Mythical 9th Division are back in a hair-raising Antipodean adventure.

This time an underwater archaeologist, Christian Krall, has used an ancient and powerful stone to bring every mythical sea creature on the planet under his control. Now he is plotting to destroy the world from his watery lair off the east coast of Australia. With the Mermen of the Mythical 3rd Division out of action, it falls to the Mythical 9th to stop Krall from creating the biggest tsunami the world has ever seen – a tsunami big enough to obliterate the Earth.

Give Me a Chance

By Gail Renard

As a sixteen-year-old, Gail Renard joined John Lennon and Yoko Ono protesting against the Vietnam War in their week-long bed-in for peace. She looked after Yoko's five-year-old daughter, helped to find tambourines and joined in the first recording of "Give Peace a Chance" with Timothy Leary, the Smothers Brothers and various other celebs. This eye-opening account of her experience, complete with photo memorabilia, is a must-have for every Beatles fan – young or old!

- Published to coincide with the 30th anniversary of John Lennon's death (10 December 1980) and the 70th anniversary of his birth (9 October 1940)
- Gail Renard has written extensively for children's TV and won a BAFTA for the BBC comedy drama Custer's Last Stand up.
